

Taran Plamondon

Horn

Born and raised in Edmonton, Taran Plamondon joined the SSO in 2019 after completing his bachelor's degree at the University of Alberta followed by an Artist Diploma at the Glenn Gould School. A three-time alumnus of the National Youth Orchestra of Canada, he recently completed his fellowship with the National Arts Centre Young Artist's Program. Taran has also appeared with the Kingston Symphony Orchestra and the Kamloops Symphony Orchestra.

He is also a keen composer, arranger and music engraver, having written for numerous ensembles including the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra, the National Youth Orchestra of Canada Brass, and numerous Edmonton-based chamber and wind ensembles. He currently splits his time between the prairies and his other home in downtown Toronto. Outside of music, he enjoys cycling, playing nostalgic late 90's video games, and visiting Tim Hortons far too frequently.
